

Edgebrook Way Blog

Welcome to Edgebrook Way!

My husband Dave and I have been living in St George, UT for the last 13 years. We have four daughters ages 3,6,9, & 11. About 8 months ago my husband was contacted by American Airlines which are headquartered in Dallas, Texas. He was offered a position with the company and 2 months later after researching the area we decided to build a home in Keller. I'm looking forward to sharing our build with you. Once it is complete I'm looking forward to sharing a great deal of finish carpentry as well as all of the furniture builds for the new home.

To start with, here are the plans! We started with a base plan we selected with the builder and from there we created our dream home. We made a great deal of changes, primarily because I had been following a few that had just built homes, and I also did a lot of researching on Pinterest to figure out what ideas I loved that I thought could work well for our family.
